Leichhardt History Exhibition

As part of the 2011 Heritage Festival, you can catch a unique glimpse of Leichhardt's past this April at Leichhardt Library's history exhibition, 'Leichhardt Jubilee Pressed'. The exhibit shows prints of what life was like in Leichhardt from 1851 to 1921 – images of an eerily vacant Norton Street, a large smiling assembly of school children and a Jubilee procession along Parramatta Rd have been printed from original blocks that are now almost 100 years old. The original blocks and an antique press will also be on show during the exhibition until Saturday 30th April, and of course it's free!
